Client Meeting — Devera

Part 1: Research

1. 18 key questions to ask your web design client A general idea of how questions should be asked and which questions to ask
2. Webmasterworld Read a diccusion of questions to ask an got a better idea from direct human input, though a lot of it I already read, knew, or is related to unnessecary questions such as time the site is needed and budget
3. 72 Questions to Ask New Web Design Clients with PDF Chart Like 18 questions... this was used for general idea of questions, though like Webmaster world a lot of them were also unuseable in this case
